Mrs. J. M. Reagan PASSED AWAY

REMAINS BROUGHT TO GRAYLING FOR INTERMENT. FUNERAL FRIDAY

Mrs. J. M. Reagan, mother of Robert Reagan, and a former well known and highly esteemed resident of this place passed away at her home in Detroit Tuesday morning following a lingering illness.

The remains accompanied by relatives arrived in Grayling today and were taken to the Robert Reagan home and the funeral will be held tomorrow morning (Friday) with services at St. Mary's church at nine o'clock. Interment will be in Elmwood cemetery beside the remains of her husband, who passed away several years ago.

Mrs. Reagan was born in Ovid, Mich., December 8, 1851. Mr. Reagan since a young man had been employed by the Michigan Central railroad and the family made their home in Bay City and later in Grayling. Some years ago Mrs. Reagan gave up her residence here and moved to Detroit.

Those surviving the deceased are three sons and three daughters, all of whom are well known to Grayling people; Mrs. Anna Insley, Hamtramck; Mrs. Alta Skinner, Francis Reagan, Detroit; N. C. Reagan, Bay City; Mrs. Helen Peterson, Johannesburg and Robert M. Grayling. Also 13 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren, one brother and two sisters, Newton Smith and Mrs. James Henderson, St. Johns and Mrs. Lois Dunn, Muskegon.

"OUR GANG" SEWING CIRCLE

A new sewing circle was organized Oct. 11, and will be known as "Our Gang." For their first meeting they were invited to the home of Mrs. Fern Feldhauser. A delicious chicken dinner was served to the number of 18. Meetings will be held every Thursday. Last Thursday, they met at Mrs. Wakeley's. There were 24 present. Part of the afternoon was spent playing games. Mrs. Jessie Babbitt won the prize of knocking over the most apples, and Mrs. Fern Feldhauser won the penny prize, which is given away every week.

Mrs. Wakeley served a delicious lunch, the table being beautifully decorated with asters.

The afternoon was enjoyed by all. Springfield (Ohio) Sun.

TROUT RETURNS TO HATCHERY

Supt. P. G. Zalsman of the trout hatchery tells of a brook trout that "came home." A fifteen-month old brook trout that had been tagged and planted near Stephan's bridge, returned to the hatchery after three days absence. The distance from the hatchery to Stephan's is about 15 miles and that the fish made the distance in three days and got back to the hatchery is quite a surprise to everyone. The tags are numbered and a record is kept just when and where the fish are planted. Whether or not the brook trout have the instinct of homing pigeons remains to be seen. Many trout were similarly tagged and planted and we look for some surprising information to come to light upon the capture of the fish. No doubt some of these will fall the victims of trout fishermen next summer. The Department hopes to get full information as to when and where they are caught.

TOP O' MICHIGAN POTATO AND APPLE SHOW NEXT WEEK

The Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show at Gaylord will have twice the floor space and over four times the wall space this year as the result of the Northern Auto Co. turning over their garage for the Show, according to A. C. Lytle, Secretary. This building is located on Main Street next to the Michigan Central tracks.

The additional space will provide for the increase in entries which has occurred yearly and which should be materially increased this year with the addition of four new counties.

The additional wall space will make it possible to erect several educational exhibits. The Michigan State College has arranged to bring the exhibit which was placed at the State Potato Show at East Lansing last winter and the Michigan State Fair this year. The State Department of Agriculture will also have an exhibit.

The programs will be held in the auditorium opposite the court house that has housed all the activities of the Show during the past five years. The Show opens at ten o'clock Wednesday morning, October 31, and lasts until Friday afternoon.

HAVING FINE TRIP IN PHILIPPINES

Third of series of letters by Lieut. R. Emerson Bates, U. S. Army, written from the Philippines.

Dear Dad and Mother:

Four of us hired a car and drove outside Cebu as far as a little town called Consolacion intending to see a sugar central where the sugar cane is made into exportable sugar, however our driver couldn't understand so well and none of us were particularly good in the Visayan dialect so we missed out. But we managed to see the town pretty well and outside the business district it didn't vary from the usual Filipino city with its native Nipa huts and dirty, trashy look. We passed a segregation camp for lepers, but one look was enough for all of us.

We had been on board the ship now about two weeks so wanting a little relaxation the whole passenger list under the supervision of the Captain of the boat "stepped out" to a native cabaret, "The Cebu Blues". Although Cebu is wet like the rest of the islands, nothing was sold at the cabaret except soft drinks and beer. So you see it was really a very mild place. Not at all like we expected to see. I guess we all expected to see a fight in every corner of the room.

But the Captain of the boat knew what might have happened, for he carried a set of brass knuckles with him. There were about thirty ballerinos there, some mestizos, but mostly native. Only one wore native dress so except for the color of the girls it would have seemed almost like an American dance hall. All of us danced and really not one but what was above the average. You remember my telling you about the dance I went to in San Narciso when I was stationed at Mati. We picked up a Philippine Scout Captain at Mati and took him to Davao.

We got to Davao at seven and were to stay until noon. As usual four of us got a car and went for a ride. We inspected the town and the shops and found nothing interesting except a cup of Satsuna ware that I picked up in a little shop quite reasonably.

Mindanao is supposed to be Moroland and some sections are all Moro. But until we got to Davao we had seen very few of them and no Moro village. Our driver said he would take us to a Moro village about thirty miles away so we figured we could make it on time. But on the road we passed a big hemp plantation and stopped to go all thru it. There were miles and miles of hemp and so thick you couldn't see ten feet from the road.

Hemp belongs to the same family as the banana and it was difficult for me to distinguish the two at first. A pulpy stalk wrapped around other similar stalks like celery only about six inches thick grows up to about six feet then leaps out into one long flat leaf about four feet long and a foot across. The hemp extends from the tip of the leaf to the base of the stalk like the threads in celery. This plantation doesn't bother with the long fiber but cuts the stalk off at the ground and then the leaves. The stalks are carted to the mill and separated into single sections, each stalk consists of about a half dozen layers.

These are laid on a continuous belt and fed into a machine. In about ten seconds from the time it enters until it leaves, the moisture and refuse are squeezed out and a handful of wet hemp comes from the machine. It is then hung up to dry which takes about an hour. From there it goes to a combing machine where it is combed with the threads in the water. These are laid on a continuous belt and fed into a machine. In about ten seconds from the time it enters until it leaves, the moisture and refuse are squeezed out and a handful of wet hemp comes from the machine. It is then hung up to dry which takes about an hour.

After leaving Cebu we came to the ideal tropical island, Balikasag, a little island only a mile in area with wide sandy beach all around it and palm trees in the center. It was a sight for our eyes and everyone fell in love with it. You could almost imagine yourself transported into the stories by "Conrad of the Tropic Islands."

We arrived at Siquijor Island the same night and altho it was late we got off to relax and walk around Larena, the Barrio at which we stopped was all closed up for the night. Every barrio follows the same custom of going to bed early and this was no exception. We had been used to seeing coconut and palm trees twenty feet high as a maximum but here for the first time we saw the tall ones rising fifty to sixty feet in the air.

Before we were up the next morning we had made two stops on Bohol Island, at Loay and Bacolay, then to Dumangan on the opposite side of Cebu Island from where Cebu is located. Since that stop we have made only one stop that has not been on Mindanao.

Mindanao is the second largest island in the Philippines, being about thirty-nine thousand square miles and only a few hundred square miles smaller than Luzon. We started at the most northwesterly point of the island and to date have followed every bit of the north, east and south coast and are now on the way to Zamboanga, the most southwesterly point.

There is little to write about the trip until we get to Davao. However I'll enumerate the stops so if you have a map you can locate them. The first stop was at Tagalog Point, then Palo Point, Jeminey and Kalivibugan. There was a mammoth lumber mill at Kalivibugan reminding me of the mills at home. I went all thru it and was almost homesick. They had two and a half million board feet in the yards and an inexhaustible supply in the hills a couple of miles from town.

From there we went to Cagayan, then to Monabao on Camiguin Island and then to Nisipit, Agusau river and Surigao. At Surigao we stopped long enough to run into a cabaret for a couple of dances. The next stop was Rasa, then Dahak Point, Cavit Point, Agasaga, Mati, Cape San Augustin and Davao. We were sailing almost two days from Rasa to Davao and the Pacific was sure rough. I was sick as usual and only got off at Mati. We picked up a Philippine Scout Captain at Mati and took him to Davao.

We got to Davao at seven and were to stay until noon. As usual four of us got a car and went for a ride. We inspected the town and the shops and found nothing interesting except a cup of Satsuna ware that I picked up in a little shop quite reasonably.

SOUTH BRANCH RESIDENT PASSED AWAY

Joseph Scott, father of Supervisor Oliver B. Scott of South Branch Township, passed away at his home in that township Sunday, October 21st, after a short illness.

Mr. Scott was born in Riga Township, Lenawee county, Michigan, April 1st, 1850. He grew to manhood in Riga and on October 20th, 1872 was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Foer. To the union nine children were born, six of whom survive, Maggie, Louisa and George passing away in their infancy.

On October 13th, 1878, Mr. Scott with his wife and family of then three children came to Crawford county, and located in that part of Crawford county, which was known then as South Branch township, Kalkaska county. The farm which he purchased at that time has been the family home of the Scott family ever since and it was here the old gentleman passed away.

Mr. Scott always enjoyed telling of how the little family got off the train at Roscommon and how he gazed around at the tall stately pines and filling his lungs with the clear, pure air, his face weather in smiles of satisfaction at the surroundings. Being very ambitious and with high hopes he at once began to hunt up a home in the wilderness of Crawford county. It meant many hardships and took courage but Mr. Scott took everything good-natured always looking on the bright side of life, and soon had accomplished his purpose.

The deceased was a loving and kind husband and father, a good neighbor and was one of the estimable citizens of the township in which he had lived so long.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the farm home and was attended by hosts of friends and neighbors of the family. Surviving are his wife, one daughter and five sons: Mrs. Ida M. Atwood, Oliver B., Henry F., Charles E., Alvin M., and Vernon M. Scott, all of South Branch. Also three sisters and one brother, Mrs. Julia Pearsall, Mrs. Elizabeth Moon, Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. Ella Doty and George Scott, Portland, Oregon.

SUPERB PICTURE IS "THE KING OF KINGS"

DE MILLE'S PRODUCTION
MAKES HIT IN EASTERN CITIES

Cecil B. De Mille's highly renowned picture, "The King of Kings," which packed the Aldine Theatre, Philadelphia, for nine weeks, will be on view at the Grayling Opera House on Nov. 6, 7, 8 and 9. Outside of New York and Los Angeles, Philadelphia was one of the few cities of the United States to be favored with an early presentation of this "picture of pictures," as many in New York styled Mr. De Mille's famous production.

With eighteen stars, 500 principals, and a supporting cast of 5,000 persons, "The King of Kings" devotes its story to the last year and a half of the ministry of the Man of Nazareth. All the characters of the New Testament live and move in this remarkable picture. In the cast are H. B. Warner, Dorothy Cumming, Ernest Torrence, Joseph Schildkraut, Jacqueline Logan, Rudolph Schildkraut, Victor Varconi, Majol Coleman, Montagu Love, William Boyd, George Siegmund, Theodore Kosloff, Kenneth Thomson, Julia Faye, Sam De Grasse, Alan Brooks, M. Moore, Muriel McCormac, and others.

ATTENTION LEGIONIRES

There will be a special meeting of Grayling Post 106 American Legion at 8:30 sharp Monday, Oct. 29 at their hall. Every Legionnaire is requested to be present.

ODD FELLOWS

There will be a School of Instruction on Tuesday, Oct. 30, also report from Grand Lodge.

Please be present.

PRIVATE PEAT HERE OCT. 31ST

FIRST NUMBER ON REDPATH LYCEUM COURSE

Private Peat, who emerged from the crucible of the World War, a dynamic youth with a new vision, has become one of the greatest speakers on the platform. As a platform envoy it is doubtful if he has an equal. His new talk, "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," which he will give here, is compounded out of his personal experiences during the great conflict and in the eleven eventful years which has since passed.

The tag which the Red Cross tied on Private Peat was marked "hopeless" when he was picked up on the battlefield in the early days of the war. He lived, however, to write and speak about the war. His articles have been syndicated all over the world.

During the last thirteen years Private Peat has been studying and thinking. He has been thinking of the why of war and he has evolved a philosophy of war and peace which startles as it convinces his hearers. There is a marching rhythm to the speech of Private Peat. He visualizes the drama of war as few soldiers have done.

This is the first number of the Redpath Lyceum Course and will be presented at Michelson Memorial Church Wednesday evening, October 31st.

Very sincerely yours,
REV. J. W. GREENWOOD.

A Personal Word to Grayling Citizens Dear Friends:

It was my personal pleasure two years ago to hear Private Peat who comes to us on Wednesday night. Never in my experience have I heard a more electric discourse on the war than the message which he brings. He is one of the great leaders on the stage today. Laughter and tears vie with each other. And you come away vowing a great vow that never again, should men be plunged into a great war. Peat knows France and the trenches and the soldier of yesterday, and the whole business lives over again. I want to urge that the town of Grayling takes advantage of hearing this famous soldier of the last war. No group will receive greater help than the High School student. The High School ought to attend in an entire body. Will all parents make a real sacrifice to make this great occasion?

Very sincerely yours,
REV. J. W. GREENWOOD.

"A good material that saved me money"

"That's what CELOTEX did, and here is how I figured it. First, I used CELOTEX for sheathing and got stronger insulated walls. This cost me less money than wood sheathing and building paper. Second, CELOTEX was used in place of lath and the plaster bonds more securely on CELOTEX. It cost a trifle more, but I have paid dearly in the past for plaster patches and with CELOTEX I got a stronger sound deadened wall that will be free from lath marks."

"I was able to put in a smaller heating plant and less radiation because I used CELOTEX—so, you see, I saved three ways."

CONDAMN

An amendment to the state constitution will be submitted in November which provides for what is called excess condemnation.

This amendment was defeated two years ago by a small margin, because voters inferred what was meant was excessive condemnation.

Such is not the case.

The provision is for excess condemnation within "reasonable limitations."

The purpose of the amendment is to reduce the cost of public improvements and make them more effective. By condemning neighboring land, as well as that actually needed, a city, state or county is able to control the territory immediately adjacent to the improvement.

Often the adjacent land can be sold to help defray the cost of improvement.

And, when sold, the character of the usage may be specified to conform to the general beauty and plan of the improvement.

No city, county nor the state can take advantage of this amendment until after appropriate local legislation.

This leaves the matter one of local option, even after the amendment is passed.

The Avalanche suggests this amendment be supported.

AUTO WEIGHT TAX APPORTIONMENT TO COUNTIES

Apportionment of automobile weight tax collections made during the quarter ended September 30, 1928, to counties of Michigan, has been announced by John S. Haggerty, secretary of state. The total was $1,306,726.94. Apportionment among counties included the following:

Alcona, $1,087.84; Allegan, $8,145.26; Alpena, $4,886.95; Barry, $4,870.87; Berrien, $24,040.67; Branch $5, 450.14; Calhoun, $22,371.74; Cass, $4,432.47; Charlevoix, $3,247.72; Cheboygan, $2,795.78; Crawford, $1,240.76; Emmet, $3,995.94; Genesee, $70,093.46; Gd. Traverse, $4,815.28; Ingaham, $33,915.24; Iosco, $1,974.29; Jackson, $21,226.28; Kalamazoo, $22,557.34; Kalkaska, $709.18; Kent, $57.

The nation-wide movement on the part of the lawyers for the Hoover-Curtis ticket has resulted in the formation of a National Hoover-Curtis Lawyers association, with vice-presidents in every state and in every county of every state, under the leadership of Nathan William McChesney, president, and Elihu Root, honorary president.

The Michigan vice-president is Hal H. Smith of Detroit and the chairman for Crawford County is Mr. Geo. L. Alexander.

"The Hoover-Curtis candidacy makes an especial appeal to the lawyers," said Mr. Alexander in referring to the lawyers' movement.

"His trained technical mind appeals particularly to members of the Bar of the country. This is in spite of the fact that he does not approach the national problems from a legal standpoint, but rather from the humanitarian point of view. The training in all the professions, whether engineer, doctor, or lawyer, apparently develops some similarity of thought and in this Mr. Hoover finds his strong appeal to the members of the Bar. Then there is his attitude and reasoning upon governmental and economic questions. Here he deals with fundamentals in the manner of a trained scientist, but always his conclusion is affected and colored by his intense feeling for the welfare of the people—that welfare which he has served so often, not only in the United States but everywhere in the world. The movement amongst the lawyers is meeting with enthusiastic response in all parts of Michigan and will undoubtedly have its good effect in an additional Republican majority."

THE KING OF KINGS' BIG DRAMA

The subject of "Cecil B. DeMille's King of Kings" is the greatest drama of history—the life, death, trial, death and resurrection of the Saviour of the World. By agreement of reviewers everywhere, Mr. DeMille has achieved an extraordinary triumph, and there will be keen curiosity to see this wonderful film. Its premier representation here at the Grayling Opera House on Nov. 6, 7, 8 and 9. A tremendous cast of stellar players makes this production one of the most notable of the decade.

FARMERS SHOULD USE PROPER FERTILIZERS

East Lansing, Oct. 25—in an effort to assist Michigan farmers in the choice of fertilizers for use on different soils and for different crops the soils department at Michigan State College has prepared a list of the fertilizers analysis recommended for use in this state.

This list was submitted for the approval of a group of 125 men who represented the companies selling fertilizer, the field extension men, and the farmers themselves.

Three factors must be considered before fertilizer recommendations can be made for any specific farm: the type of soil, the treatment which the soil has previously had, and the kind of crop to be grown on the soil must be known before worthwhile advice can be given.

An example of the different analyses of fertilizer which may be desirable for the same crop on varying soils is given by the recommendations for the use of fertilizer on corn ground.

On light sand where manure has not been used and legumes have not been grown the previous year, the analysis recommended by the soils department for corn is 2-16-2; on clay where manure has been applied the previous year the proper fertilizer is 0-20-0; and, on muck, the use of 0-8-24 is advised.

Confidence in Shell Motor Oil is well placed

It is the kind of oil you would expect Shell to make—sturdy, long-lived, dependable

Shell Motor Oil is backed by the resources and reputation of Shell. It is worthy of the name it bears—worthy to be the companion of Shell Gasoline in your car. Shell-made from start to finish, this dependable oil was developed for the strenuous demands of modern high-speed driving—and is more than equal to the task.

Painstaking thoroughness is evident at every stage in production—for example, the crude oils forming the base of Shell Motor Oil are picked for their rich lubricating properties. The Shell refining process operates only at a low temperature and thus preserves the natural heat resistance of the oil.

Trust your motor car investment to Shell Motor Oil—it stands the gaff—protects every moving metal part in your engine—relieves you of all worries about lubrication. Shell service stations and dealers have it in just the right grade for your car.

DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION FOR THE STATE OF MICHIGAN

Lansing, Michigan, October 15, 1928.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the following abandoned tax lands situate in the county of Crawford, this State, deeded to the State by the Auditor General under the provisions of Sec. 137 of Act 996 of the Public Acts of 1898 and acts amendatory thereto, have been withdrawn from homestead entry by the Auditor General and the Director of Conservation acting jointly, under the provisions of Sec. 181 of Act 208, Public Acts of 1898, as amended by Act 155 of the Public Acts of 1927, examined and appraised, and will be placed in market by offering the same for sale at a Public Offering to be held at this office, Room 204, State Office Building, City of Lansing, on Tuesday, the 27th day of November, 1928, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the land will become subject to purchase in the manner prescribed by law.

In the event of a sale the deed by which the land will be conveyed to purchaser will contain a clause reserving to the State of Michigan all rights in any mineral, coal, oil or gas found lying or being on, within or under the said lands, and also reserving to the People of the State of Michigan the rights of ingress and egress over and across any of said lands lying along any watercourse or stream as required by Section 456 of the Compiled Laws of 1915.

INSTRUCTIONS—To vote a straight party ticket make a cross (X) in the circle (O) under the name of your party. Nothing further need be done. To vote for a candidate not on your party ticket, make a cross (X) in the square [] before the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote on the other ticket, and strike out an equal number of names on your party ticket, for that office. If you do not desire to vote for any party ticket, do not make a cross (X) in the circle (O) at the head of any ticket; but make a cross (X) in the square [] before the name of each candidate for whom you desire to vote. If you wish to vote for a candidate not on any ticket, write or place the name of such candidate on your ticket, opposite the name of the office. Before leaving the booth fold the ballot so that the initials of the inspector may be seen on the outside.

RECRUITS FOR ARMY SOUGHT
Branch Officer Opens Office Here In Post Office

Corporal William Ashcraft announces that opportunities are now open for enlistment in Hawaiian service as well as in this country, the Infantry, Field Artillery, Coast Artillery, Medical Department and Engineers. Men from 18 to 35 are eligible for enlistment.

How to Apply

Young men desiring to enter the army should apply at the nearest recruiting station, anywhere, if qualified, they will be accepted. After their acceptance, all further expenses will be borne by the government. A letter addressed simply to the "Army Recruiting Officer" in the nearest principal city will bring full information to those unable to apply in person. The main recruiting office is at 126 West Congress St., Detroit, Mich.

We are sure everyone will be deeply interested in studying the ballot. Should there be any doubt on the part of any voter as to just how to vote, ask some more experienced voter for help. Assistance is available at any time at the Avalanche office, and it will be gladly given.

There is no reason for any new or timid voter to hesitate on voting at this election. Voting is simple but highly important. Never, in our opinion, has there been a time in the history of our nation when the importance of voting has been so great as at this time. Let's do our citizenship duty on November 6th.

So, let's get out the vote. Be sure that you are registered and that your neighbor and his family is registered. Next Saturday is the last day. Then see that every voter in your township votes.

The Election Ballot

The Avalanche is pleased to publish a copy of the election ballot, substantially as it will be presented to the voters on election day.

The name of the presidential and vice presidential candidates do not appear on the ballot, and instead the people vote for electors who in turn vote for their party candidate.

A cross in the circle of the Republican column will register a vote for Hoover and Curtis for president and vice president and all other Republican candidates for all offices, including county offices. Should the voter wish to vote for a candidate on another ticket, all that is necessary is to place a cross x in the square before the name of the person for whom they wish to vote. It will not be necessary to erase the name of the candidate for whom they do not wish to vote.

A cross in the circle beneath the Democratic vignet will be a vote for Smith and Robinson and all other Democratic candidates. The same is true for each party ticket, and splitting is done as stated above. A voter should never under any circumstances split names from among the presidential electors. That would only cause confusion. However that sometimes happens in spite of the unreasonableness of it.

We are sure everyone will be deeply interested in studying the ballot. Should there be any doubt on the part of any voter as to just how to vote, ask some more experienced voter for help. Assistance is available at any time at the Avalanche office, and it will be gladly given.

Miss Jennie Ingleby had as her guest last Thursday Mrs. William Strope of Detroit. It being such a nice fall afternoon Miss Ingleby took her guest and some of her Grayling friends to her cottage at Lake Margrethe where they enjoyed a steak fry.

Get your costume ready for the Halloween masquerade to be held at the Beaver Creek town hall Saturday night, Oct. 27. There is sure to be a big crowd present and with the good music the orchestra is furnishing you will have loads of fun. Put on a costume and mask and come out.

Pheasant hunting, out of season, is proving costly to some citizens of the state. Activity of the state game warden is making the pastime a hazardous one and judging from the court records, hunters guilty of the practice are paying fancy prices. A recent conviction at St. Johns resulted in the culprit paying a $100 fine and $5.00 costs for the shooting of one hen pheasant. Five arrests were made in the vicinity of Bath in one day.

Three East Jordan people met with an auto accident near Love's corners on U. S. 27, last Friday that cost the life of one of the party, Mrs. Irene Freshour, age 77 years, who passed away at Grayling Mercy Hospital 24 hours after the accident from shock.

The others injured were Mr. S. H. Wageman and his daughter Miss Catherine, the latter who was driving the car being the most seriously hurt. Her bruises were about the head and chest and she will be forced to remain at the hospital for some time owing to them. However her father is able to be dismissed. The party were enroute to Lansing when the accident occurred.
